

The “How”

Does it seem too good to be true? It's not...read on!!

How is Dressel Meadows Realty able to offer such great listing package options, while continuing to deliver full service?

Sagaciousness!

sa·ga·cious -- Having or showing keen discernment, sound judgment, and farsightedness.

In other words, being smart about the way we handle the listing and sale of your home!

When it comes to listing and marketing a home, many dollars are often wasted on ineffective methods and routine procedures. Therefore you, as the seller, are not truly getting the biggest bang for your buck!

Dressel Meadows has studied the statistics and research. Methods like weekly open houses and regular newspaper advertisements are no longer the means by which homes are sold. In our technology driven world, you can guess what the greatest tool is for selling your home. That's right, the Internet!

Depending on which package option you choose, the Internet will be utilized to your greatest advantage in several ways! See the package information sheets for more!

Dressel Meadows puts your investment in our services to work in the most efficient and cost-saving way. Depending on which package you choose, you have options for how extensive that marketing coverage will be for your home. You save money and have your home marketed in the most efficient way! That makes any of our packages a great package for you!

We will work with you to help you identify the best techniques for helping your home to show well, and will help you discover solutions to the repairs or remedies you may want to make to your home prior to selling it.
